QUEEN VICTORIA PROCLAIMS TODAY

Authorizes Calling Out of More Troops

TO RECRUIT BATTALIONS TO FULL STRENGTH.

Men Are Warned to Present Themselves Before Oct. 17—James Hay Says Boers Will Destroy Johannesburg if Defeated in War With England.

London, Oct. 7—[Special]—Queen Victoria in a royal proclamation today authorizes the calling out of the necessary British army reserves.

Every army battalion will be recruited to its full strength and the men are warned to present themselves before Oct. 17.

Boers Threaten Johannesburg.

Cape Town, Oct. 7—[Special]—James Hay, president of the Johannesburg Chamer mines, says the Boers will destroy Johannesburg if defeated in war with England.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 7.—President McKinley Friday afternoon dedicated the soldiers' monument erected by the citizens of Peoria county, before a crowd estimated at 65,000 people. President McKinley and every member of his cabinet, except Secretary Gage, was escorted by a monster parade of civic and military organizations, the principal feature of which was 6,000 small children carrying floral arches and flags. President McKinley reviewed the procession from the stand. He referred to this children's welcome and said he was confident the nation was safe in their hands. Mrs. S. A. Kinsey, chairman of the monument committee, unveiled the granite and bronze monument. This Mr. McKinley viewed with interest and clapped his hands as the canvas fell from the towering shaft and was released from the eagle's talons. President McKinley and members of the cabinet then inspected the monument, Sculptor Fritz Triebel accompanying the president. Members of the guard of honor accompanied members of the cabinet, and the Sons of Veterans and Peoria cavalrymen served as guard for the party. Mrs. Lucie B. Tyng, president of the Peoria Memorial Day association, presented the monument to the citizens. John C. Kingsbury, chairman of the board of supervisors, accepted it for the county and Mayor Lynch for the city.

Mr. Kingman introduced the president and he was given a tremendous ovation. Mayor Lynch welcomed him to the city. President McKinley then delivered a short address, speaking exactly twelve minutes. His remarks were followed closely.

There was a brief reception at the conclusion of the president's speech.

The presidential party was given a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Greenhut in High street at 6 o'clock. There were but few guests besides those in the party. At 8 o'clock the citizens of Peoria presented Mr. McKinley a souvenir album illustrated with views of Peoria and containing a historic sketch and the signatures of a thousand citizens.

Some of the ladies present also handed to the president a gold souvenir, commemorative of the Peoria corn festival, with the request that it be given to Mrs. McKinley. This the president smilingly promised to do.

President McKinley spent a few minutes at the opening of the exposition at the corn palace at night. It was the inaugural ball and hundreds took part in the opening and again accorded the president a hearty welcome to Peoria.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 7.—Cannons boomed and bands played "Dixie" as President McKinley alighted from the Campania, his private car, at the grounds of the Illinois Soldiers' home Friday. The sun shone brightly, making a perfect day. Fifteen hundred old veterans, inmates of the home, cheered enthusiastically as the president and members of his cabinet took carriages to be driven between long lines of soldiers around the beautiful grounds of the home.

The president was first escorted to an improvised platform, from which he bowed and smiled in acknowledgment of the veterans' greetings, shaking hands with as many as possible. Then, in company with members of the local committee, he made a short visit to the soldiers' hospital. The presidential party was next driven from the soldiers' home to the city proper, a distance of two miles. Company F, Fifth infantry, the naval reserves and Company F, Eighth infantry, escorted the party through the business district. The sailors were supplied with Hotchkiss guns, and as soon as the president arrived in sight of the public square a president's salute of twenty-one guns was fired. Six thousand school children from all the schools of the city, public and parochial, were massed on the east side of the court house, waving flags and singing national airs as the president appeared. The streets were literally packed with people.

A street fair is in preparation, and all along the line of march booths and arches had been erected, most of which flaunted the Stars and Stripes, and bore the pictures of McKinley and Dewey. The procession went by a circuitous route through the principal business streets of the city, until the public square was reached, where the president and members of his cabinet ascended a platform to review long files of veterans from the soldiers' home. Meanwhile a reception was held in honor of Mrs. McKinley in the parlors of the Newcomb hotel. The party left Quincy at noon.

The president and several members of the cabinet delivered brief addresses. The party left Quincy at noon for Peoria. Between Quincy and Peoria three brief stops were made at Macomb, Canton and Bushnell. At each of these stations the president was escorted from the train to platforms erected for the occasion, and made short speeches. The entire population of these towns appeared to have turned out to greet the chief magistrate, and he was invariably welcomed with boundless enthusiasm and applause.

There was not a single untoward incident to mar a glorious day, but there was one not on the program which could happen only in the United States. President McKinley and William J. Bryan crossed each other's path at Canton. They met as friends and shook hands in the presence of 20,000 cheering fellow citizens.

The president spoke. The man who would be president listened and gave applause. When they separated it was with another cordial handshake and expression of good will.

This conjunction of America's two public life stars of the first magnitude was wholly unexpected by each and their friends until a day ago. President McKinley's mapped route did not include Canton until just before he left Washington. Mr. Bryan was billed a long time ago to speak there this week but today was the expected date until very recently. Mr. Bryan arrived there Friday morning. Out of courtesy to the president his meeting was postponed until the presidential train should have passed.

All this was known when the president's train left Quincy in the morning, yet a personal meeting with Mr. Bryan was not expected. Mr. Bryan so it was reported at Canton, had been brought from his hotel to the speakers' stand erected near the railroad station in full expectation that President McKinley had gone on. But the presidential train was late.

Mr. Bryan saw no necessity for retreating. He was on the platform, but in the rear of the local committee, when President McKinley stopped his train. When the local dignitaries had all been introduced to the president he stepped forward.

"How do you do, President McKinley?" he said, proffering his hand.

Mr. McKinley turned with surprise depicted in his eye.

"Why, Mr. Bryan, I am very glad to see you," he said, "very glad indeed," and the two shook hands warmly. The president then turned for a brief address.

While he spoke, wholly along nonpartisan national lines, Mr. Bryan led the applause. At the end the president turned as he was leaving the platform and searched momentarily with his eyes until he found the silver leader. With another hearty handclasp Mr. McKinley said goodby and stepped aboard his train.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 7.—President McKinley arrived here late last night to participate in the Lincoln-Douglas debate celebration. The program today began with the parade, which started at 8 a. m. from the residence of Col. Carr. The line of march was through Main street, with its arch and decorations, and then to the college. The president and his party, the faculty of Knox college, members of the reception committee and invited guests occupied a large platform directly in front of the main entrance of the college building. It was in front of the college that the great debate between Lincoln and Douglas was held in 1852.

Immediately after the program the presidential party took their special for Chicago, which left at 11 o'clock a. m.

INVENTIONS FOR THE WOMEN

Janesville Lady Gets Up an Appliance That Was Long Needed.

An item recently published in The Gazette, which has also gone the rounds of the press, says: "The person who invents a successful coupler for the shirt waist will confer a boon upon womankind that will be widely appreciated. The woman in a shirt waist always anticipates a difference between her waist and skirt, a gap of divergence, a severance of the connections. Ordinary observers will notice, especially at the theater or church, the concerted action in which every woman's hand goes to her belt in the rear when she rises to her feet for any purpose. It is an instinctive movement and not at all ungraceful, and to the onlooker an interesting performance."

The article tells the truth except that it fails to state that the appliance has already been invented by a Janesville woman, too. It does the work perfectly, and every woman who wants one can secure it at 157 Fourth avenue.

THE SENTINEL SAYS ITS GOOD

Milwaukee Paper Speaks Well of "McCarthy's Mishaps"—Here Monday.

The Milwaukee Sentinel speaks quite highly of the laughable farce comedy, "McCarthy's Mishaps," which appears at Myers Grand next Monday evening. It says:

"McCarthy's Mishaps" were given at the Star yesterday to two large houses, and will hold the boards for the week. This is a little out of the regular line of entertainment provided at the Star, but the mishaps and the dialogue have been rearranged to admit of all manner of specialty acts which had no place in the original production. Barney Ferguson is on hand to play the role of the unfortunate McCarthy, and he is suported by a full complement of comedians and dancers and pretty girls to round out the grotesque stage pictures. The entertainment opens with McCarthy among the ballet dancers, then makes him the victim of a picnic party, and finally lands him at home after the honeymoon somewhat broken up by his numerous strange misadventures. The piece is a mirth provoker."

TO THE UNKNOWN BEYOND.

Mrs. Pauline Bailey

A Wichita, Kansas, paper announces the death of a former Janesville women as follows:

"Monday morning, Sept. 25, after long and patient suffering, Mrs. Pauline Bailey was released from pain and given rest. To the family she left the comforting message that all was well and expressed a willingness to submit to God's will.

"Mrs. Bailey was the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Reynolds. She was born in Johnstown, Wis., May 9, 1851. When but a child she moved with her parents to Janesville, Wis., where, at the age of 22 she was married to W. E. Bailey. Her parents moved to Kansas in 1877. Later she joined them and has since made her home with them.

"A son, Ellis Bailey, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Reynolds, two sisters, Mrs. E. W. Farnham and Jessie Reynolds, three brothers, Harvey, Ben and Roy Reynolds, survive her and mourn the loss of a mother, daughter and sister.

"The last sad ceremonies were conducted at her late home by Rev. C. H. Wareham, pastor of the First Baptist church, Wednesday afternoon, September 27, at 3 o'clock. A large circle of sorrowing friends were in attendance. The body was laid to rest in Maple Grove cemetery."

Rebels Attempt to Rush the Line of Defense Held by Gen. Grant's Soldiers

Manila, Oct. 7.—Filipino rebels met the American soldiers in a hand-to-hand fight Friday. They were defeated. Twenty-five of their dead already have been found by our soldiers, but the American troops are marveling at this latest exhibition of the boldness of the rebels.

Gen. Fred Grant, in command of six companies of the Fourth infantry, and Reilly's battery, started out to clear the country of the insurgents who had made a general attack on Imus and the various parts of the line held by the Americans in that vicinity. The general had replied to the first attack by sending a small detachment of troops to repulse the natives. The Filipinos surrounded seven of Grant's men and captured them. Then the general decided upon a more effective movement.

Attack on Binacayan.

Gen. Grant's men swept the insurgents from their position on the west bank of the river, near Imus. The Filipinos were driven toward San Francisco. Gen. Grant's men then proceeded to Binacayan. Six hundred natives were in the city as the American troops advanced. They offered but slight resistance, however, and retreated, setting fire to the village as they left.

Before Gen. Grant had proceeded to Binacayan Capt. Brown's battalion had rested on the right of the river, while Reilly's battery took a position on the left which commanded the trenches of the insurgents. As the Americans advanced other companies of the Fourth infantry came up the right river bank from near Bacoor in order to flank the insurgents. They reached the troops on the left bank only after they had had a terrible hand-to-hand fight with the insurgents. Sergt. King killed a Filipino during this struggle as the rebel was trying to shoot an American officer. The Filipinos kept up the hand-to-hand fight for some time, but finally broke and ran toward San Francisco. The Americans pursued them for some distance.

Fight in the River Bend.

The hardest fight was at the bend in the river, where two struggles have taken place recently. Here the insurgents had strong intrenchments. The American officers regard the fighting as important because it has shown a disposition on the part of the Filipinos to stand up and make a close fight. The officers predict that hereafter it will be a great deal more dangerous to storm insurgent positions.

A number of Americans were seriously wounded during the fight, but no fatalities were reported. Gen. Grant established outposts along the west side of the river. This outpost will protect the road to Manila.

Battle Seen from Manila.

The people of Manila could hear and see the battle. The smoke of the burning houses at Binacayan could be seen plainly, while the roar of Reilly's artillery could be heard. The battle caused a great deal of excitement.

Cargo of Mules Lost.

Manila, Oct. 7.—The United States transport Siam, which left San Francisco Sept. 9, with upward of 350 valuable mules, the coming of which had been anxiously awaited, as mules are in great demand for continuing the campaign, arrived Friday and reported that all but nineteen of the animals had been lost in two severe typhoons under peculiarly distressing conditions.

BLOW TO TRUSTS IN INDIANA.

Judge Ryan Overrules Demurrers to Suit for Injunction.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 7.—In the injunction suits brought by the Window-Glass Workers' National association, enjoining Indiana manufacturers from transferring their plants to the $17,000,000 combine, Judge Ryan Friday handed down a ruling which deals a severe blow to trusts depending upon Indiana plants for control of markets. He overruled all demurrers set up by the trust, and held that it was within the jurisdiction of the courts to rule on the case, and that the case was sufficient for action.

More Money for the Navy.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Acting Secretary Allen has prepared the full statement of estimates which will be submitted to congress for the maintenance of the naval establishment for the next fiscal year. These amount to $73,045,183, which is an increase over the appropriations for the current year of $21,537,187. Included in the increase for the next year are appropriations of $12,268,474 for public works and navy yards and stations. There is also an estimate of $2,021,000 for the new naval academy.

FATHER TIME WON THE YACHT RACE

Today's Contest Will Not Count

THE LIMIT EXPIRED BEFORE THE FINISH.

Columbia Was Slightly in the Lead When the Gun Was Fired Notifying the Sailors That There Could Be No Decisive Result—The Contest to the Turn Was a Beautiful One—Lipton's Shamrock Was Evidently Outpointed.

New York, Oct. 7, 4:15 p. m.—[Special]—For the third time the race between the Columbia and the Shamrock is declared off on account of the time limit.

Highland, N. J., Oct. 7—[Special]—Both racers were given the preliminary spins after reaching the starting point. The wind had lessened perceptibly. The Columbia seemed to run more easily than the Shamrock.

Shortly before 11 a. m. the course was cleared by the torpedo boats and everything placed in readiness for the signal to cross the line.

At 11:19 the signal gun was fired.

The Columbia crossed the line first, the Shamrock following twenty-five seconds later.

For the first few minutes the racers engaged in a luffing match, but the Columbia gained a little in the contest.

Columbia Leads; Shamrock Gains.

The boats were headed for Seabright when the wind shifted to the northwest and continued to drop.

The Columbia appeared to have the better of the argument. The Shamrock set her baloon jib stops at 11:29. Half a minute later she broke out her big sail and the Columbia broke out her spinnaker. This last move was followed by the Shamrock.

The challenger had trouble with this, three or four stops at first refusing to break. Finally took it down to break out stops. The sail dragged in water for a minute and was then raised again; this time successfully.

At 11:51 the Columbia led by a minute and five seconds, the Shamrock, however, began to gain on the defender.

The spinnakers of both yachts did not fill well and they were running dead before the wind shortly before noon, the wind having died out to about eight knots an hour.

At 11:59 the Columbia is increasing its lead and appears to be several lengths ahead.

At 12:09 the Shamrock was cutting down the Columbia's lead with alarming rapidity and is almost under her bow.

At 12:11 the boats are even.

At 12:12 the boats are ploughing side by side like a beautiful span of horses.

At 12:13 the Shamrock has passed the Columbia and leads for the first time in the race.

At 12:21 the Shamrock is still increasing he lead and it looks as if she is being better managed.

Boats Almost Even At 12:43.

At this point the Columbia made a spurt and seemed to be overcoming her rival's lead. The boats were off Seabright.

They were almost even at 12:43, the Columbia having taken away nearly all the Shamrock's advantage.

At 1:13 the boats were about a mile and a half off Long Branch. They were having a battle royal and were tearing along with the Britisher slightly in the lead.

The race to the turn was a beautiful one.

The Shamrock continued to maintain the lead, but by a narrow margin.

The Shamrock made the turn at 1:36, the Columbia following in five seconds later.

Columbia Holds Her Lead.

It was a magnificent contest.

If anything the Columbia had the better position as they swung around the turn. The American boat came round on the inside and a few minutes passed in front of the Shamrock. The boats then indulged in a tacking match, the contestants speeding to port and starboard again and again.

The Columbia continued to hold her slight lead and was outpointing Lipton's boat, the Yankees running much better than the Britishers.

A NEW FEATURE IN UNIVERSITY WORK

NOTABLES TO ADDRESS STUDENTS ON GENERAL TOPICS

First Lecture Delivered Yesterday By Prof. W. H. Tomlins of Chicago, on Musical Culture—Frank L. McManus of Janesville, Honored in Law School—Football Notes.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—[Special]—A new feature has been added to the university work and life this year in a general assembly of the students every Friday noon at twelve. This meeting is held in Library hall and it is required of freshmen and sophomores to attend. Prominent men from different parts of the state and country will address the students on general topics and it is the desire of President Adams that special attention be devoted to cultivating a better trade for music among the student body. The first of the lectures was given yesterday noon by Prof. W. H. Tomlins of Chicago, the celebrated choral director, who delivered an address on musical culture. A large number of students were present and were greatly benefitted by the able address presented. Prof. Tomlins will conclude his lecture next Friday. At this meeting, President Adams announced that the university would receive a visit from the Western society of engineers next Saturday. Also that Dean Johnson would formally be inaugurated into his new position of dean of the college of engineering on that day.

The practice work in the law school has been changed from the mere arguing of cases before an appellate court to that of the actual trial of cases before a permanent tribunal. The students will be compelled to draw and file with the proper officers all the necessary papers from the beginning of an action to the final judgment and satisfaction of the same. Frank L. McNamara of Janesville, has been appointed clerk of this court. This is a very desirable position, because of the practical nature of the work required.

Chief Justice Cassoday of the supreme court, has been compelled by press of time, to resign his chair on constitutional law in the law school. As yet, no one has been selected to fill the vacancy.

Vent has been given for the last week to the inherent rivalry between the freshmen and sophomore classes, in the printing of various posters gotten out by the respective classes, and the numerous impromptu addresses wrung from the freshmen under threats of punishment by their superiors (?) the sophomores. All such, however, culminated in the annual class rush last Wednesday, when the freshmen reported for their first gym. drill. Contrary to the usual custom, the freshmen forced the fighting, and the sophomores being outnumbered were for a time powerless, but at the end of the conflict more freshmen had been immersed in the lake than sophomores. The most friendly feeling prevailed throughout the contest and it was considered the best class rush held in years.

About six hundred rooters accompanied by the band, left for Milwaukee this morning with the football team. A hard game is expected as reports of Beloit's unusual strength have come this way, but all have confidence in the ability of the Cardinal to hold its own. The team is rapidly getting into championship form and the friends of Wisconsin may look for something unexpected to happen in the Yale game. An excellent opportunity will be afforded to see the team on its home grounds next Saturday, Oct. 14, when Northwestern plays here. Manager Fisher has secured reduced rates on all the railroads and a large crowd will be here from outside points.

BELOIT MAN WEDS AT SEVENTY

T. N. Laramy, a Rich Widower, Marries Mrs. Leach of Rockford.

There is quite a sensation over the announcement of the marriage of T. N. Laramy, one of the prominent old citizens of Beloit, to Mrs. Leach, a widow of Rockford, which according to a telegram from Mr. Laramy, occurred at Rockford last night. Mr. Laramy is seventy years of age and very wealthy. His wife died last spring and he gave the college a $15,000 block as a memorial in her name. He has no children, but has several sisters, and the marriage complicates the final disposition of the large estate.

ODD AND MIRTH PROVOKING

Hoyt's "A Stranger In New York" At Myers' Grand This Evening.

A treat is in store for the patrons of Myers' Grand opera house this evening in Hoyt's "A Stranger in New York." Manager Myers guarantees the performance, which without a doubt, will be one of the very best events in the local play house this season.

For several years, the name of Charles Hoyt has had a magic sound in the ears of American theatre-goers. Always fresh, unhackneyed and filled with new and unconventional situations, odd and mirth provoking, his merry comedies have long held a first place in the affections of a great portion of the play-goers of this country, and the mere announcement of a Hoyt play is always enough to set the entire community agog, and it is an event looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure.

This evening will be seen a production of his talents, which is known to be his pet creation and the wide-awake manager of the local theatre is to be congratulated in booking such a worthy attraction. This comedy is popular with theatre-goers by reason of its enormous success wherever presented.

Mr. Hoyt has given it his up-to-date touch, and many ways greatly improved it, and it is now said that "A Stranger in New York," in its present form, reflects its talented author's personality more than anything else he has written. It teems with crisp dialogue and witty flings that give it the true Hoytian flavor. It is original in every line and situation, the unexpected always happening, and no sooner does one laughable situation go by than the auditor is suddenly plunged into another before he has scarcely ceased laughing at the last. It is by this constant keeping the interest at the extreme tention that one secret of Hoyt's success may be discovered. The audience never knows what to expect.

The coming of "A Stranger in New York" will be one of the important events of the season, and that this fact is fully appreciated by amusement seekers is pretty well evidenced by the early and brisk demand for seats in advance.

In sending out the company this season, Messrs. Hoyt and McKee take great pleasure in announcing the name of Paul F. Nicholson, Jr., who will impersonate the role of the "Stranger." The press and the public throughout the country all claim he is the best ever seen in the character. Among the many Hoytian people who are still with the company are: Sadie Kirby, Belle Darling, Tom Martin, Harry Rogers, George Tallman, Martha Shepard, Hooker & Davies, Grant & Norton.

Value of Rubies.

The value of rubies below the weight of one carat ranges from $10 to $40 per carat, while stones of greater weight than four carats are of such exceptional occurrence as to command fancy prices. When a perfect ruby of five carats is brought into the market ten times as much will be offered for it as for a diamond of the same weight. The supposed largest ruby known is one brought from China, which now forms a part of the imperial crown jewels of Russia. The two most important rubies ever known in this country were brought here in 1875. One was a dark-colored stone, cushion shape, weighing 37 carats; the other a blunt stone, drop shape, of 47 1-16 carats. The smaller stone, it is affirmed, was sold for about $50,000, while the larger one found a purchaser in Europe for $100,000.

LESS ACTIVITY IN BUYING NEW CROP

ONLY A FEW SCATTERING TOBACCO SALES REPORTED.

Firms Whose Buyers Were Swarming Growing Sections Have Taken Them Out of the Field—Soverhill & Porter Pick Up 150 Cases—Early Harvest Nearly Cured.

Riding for the new tobacco crop has about ceased for the present, and only a few scattering sales have been reported during the week. Each of the firms whose buyers were swarming the growing sections a few weeks ago, have taken their men out of the field. At the present writing matters are quiet throughout the tobacco sections, says the Edgerton Reporter.

Some hunting of scattering lots of old goods has been done of late, and Soverhill & Porter of this city, have picked up about 150 cases from growers, at prices quoted in the following transactions:

Roberts & Fosdahl, 35 cases, '98, at 8½ cents.

John Sampson, 23 cases, '98, at 8¼ cents.

Sampling is still engrossing the attention of the packers and while some business is being done no important transactions have reaches us.

A heavy freeze during the week it was feared might be productive of fat stems in the shed but up to date no injury from this source is reported. The early harvested tobacco is now pretty well cured down.

The shipments out of storage reach a total of 1100cs, 22 carloads, for the week from Edgerton to all points. Since last report 615cs of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

DOCTORS OUTLINE A PROGRAM

Rock River Medical Society Held Profitable Meeting Last Night.

An interesting session of the Rock County Medical society was held at the municipal court room last evening. There was a very good attendance and the session proved to be one of enlightenment upon the subjects discussed. Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, a member of the committee on program, presented one for the ensuing three months as follows:

November—Diabetis. Paper by Dr. Hugo Speier. Discussion opened by Dr. Q. O. Sutherland. Paper on Bright's Disease, by Dr. M. A. Cunningham. Discussion opened by Dr. E. E. Loomis.

December—Obstetrics. Paper by Dr. Loomis on Obstetrical Accidents and their Treatment. Writer to select leader of discussion.

January—Obstetrics. Paper by Dr. J. P. Pember on Obstetrical Operations. Writer to select leader of discussion.

A NEW GRIST MILL STARTED

Roy C. Valleau, Formerly With Norcross & Doty, is the Proprietor.

A new grist mill will be started in this city at the corner of North First and North Bluff streets about the middle of next week. The proprietor is Roy C. Valleau and he is doing all in his power to make it a model mill in every respect. Mr. Valleau is experienced at the business, having been for the past seven years employed by the firm of Norcross & Doty. The new mill will have a capacity of about one hundred and twenty-five bushels per hour, and the grinding will be done by the improved roller process. The grain will be received on the first floor and the bagging will be done on the second floor. The location of the mill will make it very convenient for the farmers to unload their grain, and it is confidently predicted that Mr. Valleau will be very successful in his new undertaking.

New Vessels for the Navy.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Although the secretary of the navy has not yet drafted his recommendations concerning the construction of new vessels, it is generally believed at the navy department that he will recommend in his annual report that only three protected cruisers be authorized by congress at its coming session.

Dewey Favors Sending Miles.

Washington, Oct. 7. — Admiral Dewey, in his conversation with President McKinley on Wednesday morning, talked freely about the Philippines, gave his opinion about the situation there, past, present and future, and said, mong many statements, that Gen. Miles and Gen. Merritt should be sent to Luzon to end the insurrection.

Free State Seizes British Coal.

London, Oct. 7.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "A sensation has been caused here by the report that the Free State government has commandeered 800 tons of coal belonging to the Cape government, which was traversing the Free State. Such a seizure would naturally be regarded as an act of war."

ANOTHER BUSINESS CHANGE

H. S. Ames Sells Out His Livery to Rockford Man.

Another important business change took place in this city a few days ago when H. S. Ames sold out the livery business that he has conducted so many years. The purchaser is a gentleman by the name of Sawyer of Rockford, and he will continue the business. The consideration amounted to $2,800, and Mr Ames comes into possession by the transaction of a fine farm near Sioux City, Iowa. Mr. Ames retains his blooded stock, consisting of nine trotters and pacers and will devote his entire time to them. He conducted his livery business here for a great many years and has always been successful in it and no doubt his successor will continue to manage it in the same excellent manner.

Lafayette Bridge Works Burn.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 7.—The Lafayette Bridge works, one of the largest in the west, was totally destroyed by fire Friday night. The loss is estimated at $75,000, with an insurance of but $21,000. Several firemen were slightly injured by falling timbers.

Vast Quantities of Paper Used.

This country uses annually more than $100,000,000 worth of paper, or an aggregate of 4,000,000,000 pounds of all kinds. A little less than a third of this enormous production is used by the newspapers of the country. The wrapping paper of all kinds amounts to about two-thirds as much of the news paper and almost half as much is used to manufacture books as to print newspapers. The production of the various kinds of paper board amounts to over 300,000 tons annually, or more than half the production of news paper. Builders use 60,000 tons of paper, not including the 45,000 tons of wall paper that are produced annually.

OLD TIME SPELLING DOWN

Pleasant Time at Good Templars' Hall Last Night---Visitors Present.

A delegation from the Milton Junction Good Templars' lodge paid a fraternal visit to People's Lodge No. 460, I. O. G. T last evening at their hall in the Court Street M. E. church block and a few hours were passed not only in a pleasant manner, but a profitable way.

A spelling match was the feature of the evening and the thirteen visitors defeated a like number of the Janesville cold water drikers. Miss Chipman of Beloit, acted as one of the judges.

After the conclusion of the spelling match, a musical and literary program was rendered. The first number was a vocal duet by Miss Lulu Mills and Maud Williams, members of the visiting delegation. J. H. Cox favored the audience with a couple of recitations, which were well received. Miss Chipman of Beloit, made a few well chosen remarks and the program came to a succesful end by a recitation by Blanche Kildow. Games were also enjoyed during the evening.

EVADED THE LICENSE LAW

Rock County Couple Flee to Rockford and Wed.

The Rockford (Ill.) Republic of the 5th inst., contained the following:

In chambers this morning, Justice Norton in his usual impressive manner, united in wedlock Thomas P. Kelly of Janesville and Cara A. McIntosh of Beloit, Wis.

The smiling groom gave his age as "thirty-eight, your honor," while his blushing bride acknowledged in an undertone to being "twenty-six, sir."

They left for Janesville this evening, after viewing the beauties of Rockford from an electric car window.

ARMY NURSES' CHIEF.

Story of the President of Their National Organization.

One of the most interesting women at the recent Grand Army encampment was Mrs. Elizabeth Windle Ewing, president of the National Association of Army Nurses and a resident of Phenixville, Pa.

Mrs. Ewing was born in the historic village of Valley Forge 58 years ago and grew to womanhood among the valley hills where Washington and his half starved army lay encamped that memorable winter of 1777-8. She married just before the civil war, and when her first baby was 3 days old her husband, Emanuel Ewing, a member of an old Chester county family, kissed her goodby, shouldered his musket and went to the front.

The young wife's solicitude for her husband began to tell on her happiness and health, and at last, early in July, her cup of sorrow was filled to overflowing when she received word from Captain Dobson that her husband had been badly wounded at the battle of Malvern Hill, June 30, taken prisoner and carried off to Libby prison. This was too much for her. She felt that she must go and nurse him at all hazards.

After many rebuffs and disappointments she found him and became an army nurse. Mrs. Ewing nursed her husband back to health and saw him go home, and then she turned her attention to others and remained in the hospital several months.

After her work at the hospital Mrs. Ewing went home and at once identified herself with the soldiers' relief work and has ever since been a leading spirit in all movements calculated to benefit the old soldiers. She was elected president of the National Army Nurses' association one year ago and, although in feeble health, has succeeded in doing all that belongs to her office.

Paul Jones' Grave.

Neglected in a Paris cemetery lie the remains of America's first and most dashing seaman, John Paul Jones. Now that we are honoring the men who have demonstrated American bravery in the harbor of Manila and Santiago, let us not forget, remarks the Atlanta Constitution, the man who sunk the English ships and made the American name feared in the period of the revolution. They were the men for the times, and without them there would have been no country for Dewey and Schley to defend.

Recognition Is Denied.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The state department has received from the state secretary of the Transvaal republic notification that it has appointed to be its diplomatic representative in Washington Gen. James R. O'Beirne, a resident of New York, and asked if he would be recognized by our government. Accordingly Secretary Hill in reply has cabled the state secretary that the rules of the United States government forbid the reception of an American citizen as the diplomatic representative of any government.

IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make a better cleansing paste than you can buy.

Ivory Soap Paste will take spots from clothing; and will clean carpets, rugs, kid gloves, slippers, patent, enamel, russet leather and canvas shoes, leather belts, painted wood-work and furniture. The special value of Ivory Soap in this form arises from the fact that it can be used with a damp sponge or cloth to cleanse many articles that cannot be washed because they will not stand the free application of water.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING.—To one pint of boiling water add one and one-half ounces (one-quarter of the small size cake) of Ivory Soap cut into shavings, boil five minutes after the soap is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from the fire and cool in convenient dishes (not tin). It will keep well in an air-tight glass jar.

Prosperity is Here

Anyone who doubts it can be convinced by visiting any of the towns in western Iowa or Minnesota on the new lines of the Chicago & North Western Railway.

People in the immediate vicinity of these towns are quick to see the advantage and are already in advance of the railroad, building stores, residences, elevators, lumber offices, etc., etc., but there is room for more. The country is splendid, and will in all cases amply support all lines of business and trade, and in the most of the towns the best locations are still open.

Lots in any of these towns cannot help but be safe and paying investments, as they are still on the market at the original low prices.

1871—Beginning of the great Chicago fire.
1893—The American yacht Vigilant won the first race in the contest for the America's cup over the English Valkyrie by 5 minutes 43 seconds.
1894—Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes died in Boston; born in Cambridge 1809. Andrew G. Curtin, war governor of Pennsylvania, died at Bellefonte; born 1817.
1895—William Wetmore Story, distinguished American sculptor and poet, died at Vallambrosa, Italy; born 1819.
1896—General Louis Jules Trochu, noted French soldier, died at Tours, France; born 1815.
1898—Blanche Willis Howard (Von Teuffel), American author of note, died in Munich; born 1847. A. Onkey Hall, ex-mayor of New York city, died there; born 1827.

Governor Scofield announces that he will not be a candidate for renomination. His statement of this fact, like all the statements he has made since he has been in office, is directly to the point, and leaves no room for misunderstanding. He says:

"I am not a candidate for a third term. I am entirely out of the race; I am not a candidate, have not been a candidate and will not be a candidate for another term. Under no circumstances shall I be a candidate, and would not accept the nomination if tendered me. This is final and not subject to change."

Constant Reader—The "soaking" of a man who attempts to break jail tends to discourage the practice in the future. You err in your guess that a garden hose is used. No particular implement is required, as a skillful officer can perform the operation when necessary, without the aid of any artificial device, but we lack space to describe the process as fully as you request.

Col. Bryan and Col. Watterson are a long way apart. The former attacks the trusts and extols silver, while the latter declares that the silver trust is one of the biggest of the commercial combinations. "Democracy" is a flexible term, these days. Anyone who isn't anything else is a democrat, so perhaps these slight differences of opinion do not count.

What's the use of worrying about the Philippine problems, the yacht races, or anything else? Rev. J. T. Boyd of Laporte, Ind., who says it is not possible for him to be mistaken, declares that the world will come to an end on November 11.

General John C. Black, the well known Chicago democrat, has come out for expansion. He says the antis might as well try to stem the tide of the ocean as to strangle the expansion sentiment, and the Grand Army veterans, to whom he spoke, cheered his speech to the echo.

Ohio people lavished their greetings upon their distinguished representative, President McKinley, during his trip through the Buckeye state. So large were the crowds that in some cities the presidential train was considerably delayed.

Russia, Germany, France and Spain may form an alliance against England, in which case Uncle Sam would be Mr. Bull's sole hope. In the meantime, however, Mr. Bull is not worrying.

No particular care need be taken in switching the man who tried to wreck a railway train, into jail. He should be, as the railroad men say, "kicked in."

Justice is certainly blind, and takes no cognizance of penance already done. An Ohio man been arrested for having three wives.

Even the millionaire yachtmen, it seems, are sometimes unable to raise the wind.

There is no successor to the immortal Jack Hess.

South Africa, they say, is feverish.

BETTING FAVORED CUP DEFENDER

Despite the Showing the Shamrock Made Tuesday and Thursday.

Highland, N. J., Oct. 7, 7 a. m.—[Special]—A ten-knot breeze sent the waves tumbling in shore this morning. The weather is clear, and there are brilliant prospects for the race at last between the Shamrock and Columbia.

At 8 o'clock the wind was blowing fifteen knots, and half an hour later it had increased five knots.

A fleet of excursion steamers and pleasure crafts were early thronged with expectant crowds.

Despite the Shamrock's showing on Tuesday and Thursday, the Columbia remained the favorite, and betting in her favor is five to four.

At 9 o'clock the Shamrock started for the starting line under her own sale, going out like a race horse and sloops and other sailing craft were left far behind.

The Columbia also made for the starting point under her own sail and the cup defender behaved beautifully.

Business Change

The Milton Avenue grocery has changed hands, J. P. Buck of Chicago, having purchased the stock, fixtures and good will of J. S. Hart. Mr. Buck is well known here, having resided here with his father, Wm. Buck, some years ago. He is a gentleman of pleasing and business like appearance and will undoubtedly make many new customers. A new stock of fresh groceries, provisions, etc., will be added and the place given a general overhauling.

The Queen's Garb.

The queen is simply attired in a black dress, not always of silk, and wears a widow's cap, her silver hair plainly brushed on either side of her temples. Upon her fingers are plain memorial rings, and she invariably wears a bracelet having the portrait of her latest grandchild or great-grandchild placed in it as a medallion. The queen always has a handkerchief bordered with lace resting in her hands as they lie folded in her lap, the survival of an ancient fashion.

STOOD 'NEATH CUPID'S ARCH.

Half-Cousins.

At high noon yesterday, Miss Georgetta Cousins and W. J. Hall, both of this city, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. W. W. Woodside, pastor of the First M. E. church, uttering the words that made the happy couple man and wife. The ceremony was performed at the home of the officiating clergyman and was a quite affair. The couple left on the 12:40 train for Chicago and will return in a few days.

AGREEABLE NEWS TO MEN

Rogers, Peet & Co's. Famous Ready to Wear Clothing in Stock Here

Most men who are particular about their clothing, the kind usually known as swell dressers, are familiar with the name of Rogers, Peet & Co. of New York.

Down east this firm is looked upon as the leading makers of men's fine clothing. Their reputation is extending all the time and people in the west are as anxious to secure some of their goods as the eastern people. It is no easy matter to bring a line of clothing such as this to a place the size of Janesville, but through the connection with our Kansas City house we have been enabled to secure the entire line for this city.

Rogers, Peet & Co. ready-to-wear clothing is conceded by men who know what good clothing is, to be equal in every respect to the best made-to-order clothing; retail clothing houses in cities who are fortunate enough to secure the agency for this line are doing the bulk of the ready-to-wear clothing business in their vicinity. The Rogers, Peet Co. have a factory and three of the largest retail clothing stores in New York city. Their goods are widely advertised in all the leading magazines; they are considered the leading clothiers of the country. The public have been in the habit of looking to us for the proper styles in men's apparel and with the very popular lines of clothing which we have carried for several years past this new line of Rogers, Peet & Co. will give us a greater advantage than we have ever enjoyed before.

Each season we have shown that which was newest and best for men, and in doing so have established the standard in this section of the country on the same lines as those which have met with popular favor with the male fashioners in the large cities. Our exhibit of clothing for the coming fall and winter season with the addition spoken of in this article, will be really the most interesting we have ever made. T. J. ZEIGLER.

POT AU FEU.—The best pieces of beef to make good stock are the shin, the leg bone and the neck. The meat should be quite fresh. Cut the meat in slices, put it into an earthen pipkin (which makes better stock than a metal souppan), put in a sufficient quantity of water and let it stew slowly. After the meat has been skimmed add two carrots, a parsnip, turnip leeks, celery and an onion browned in butter and let it all stew slowly for five hours. Take out meat; strain stock through a tamis into earthen jar for use.

ESSENCE OF CELERY.—Wash well and parboil and drain the green stalks of two bunches of celery; put in a saucepan with salt, pepper, a little sugar, two ounces of butter and a pint of white broth, boil and let simmer gently for an hour, press the liquid through a napkin, reduce with a pint of veloute sauce, add a little pepper and a pat of butter, pour into a bowl and serve with the ducks.

JAMES CARROLL, who resides on the Footville road, met with a peculiar accident Thursday evening. He was hauling stone near the old Search farm, and was walking by the side of his wagon. In some manner he fell and struck the tire of one of the wagon wheels, with such force as to break his collar bone. The fracture, which was a bad one, was reduced by Dr. W. H. Judd assisted by Dr. James Gibson, and Carroll was made as comfortable as possible.

THE statement made in the papers that Manager Myers had cancelled "McCarthy's Mishaps" is an error. The company will appear at the opera house Monday evening as before stated. WHITEWATER WINS FROM JANESVILLE

THE NORMAL TOWN FOOTBALL TEAM VICTORIOUS.

Two Elevens Put Up a Fairly Interesting Game at Athletic Park This Afternoon—The Score Was 23 to 7—Thirty Minute Halves Were Played.

The first eleven of the Janesville High school met the first eleven of the Whitewater High school in a hard fought football game at Athletic park this afternoon, and the contest resulted in a victory for the Whitewater team by a score of 23 to 7. The game was called at 2 o'clock, and two thirty minute halves were played. The day was an ideal one for both players and spectators, and there was a good number of the admirers of the game in attendance and great enthusiasm prevailed. The home team had slightly the advantage in weight, but the visitors made up for their lack of avoirdupois by fast, snappy playing. Several sensational plays were made by members of both teams, and they were vigorously applauded.

The Whitewater team is composed of a gentlemanly lot of players and they put up a clean game. They left for home at 4:35 o'clock. The teams lined up as follows:

JANESVILLE.	Position.	WHITEWATER.
A. Ryan	left end	Parsons
Ayers	left guard	Hyslop
Lovejoy	center	Adams
Barlass	right guard	Palmer
Baumann	right tackle	Tratt
Casey	right end	Marsh
Bump	quarter and captain	Davie
W. Ryan	left half	Casserly
Galbraith	right half	Crandall
Atwood	full back	Hastings

The referee was Len Matthews of this city, and the umpire was Straussman of Whitewater. The linemen were Dougherty of Janesville, and Dixon of Whitewater.

ANSWERED A STILL ALARM

Incipient Blaze on Main Street Calls the Department Out

At 2:45 o'clock this afternoon a still alarm called the department to the barn on the premises of City Treasurer James A. Fathers, No. 259 South Main street. A number of boys had a bonfire in the street and when they supposed it was out they took the embers up to the barn and dumped them on the manure pile outside, and went away. Mrs. Fathers upon looking out shortly after, saw that the stuff had taken fire and feared that it would communicate to the barn. She telephoned to the west side station and Chief Spencer who happened to be there, ordered the men out and notified the east side station. When the first wagon reached the corner of South Main and Racine streets, box No. 32 was pulled merely as a matter of record. The fire was put out with a few pails of water and the neighborhood resumed its usual quiet. No damage.

Making Ducks Lay Black Eggs.

According to a writer in a French scientific paper, ducks fed on acorns, which they will eat ravenously, not unfrequently lay black eggs. The reason is that their eggshell is naturally rich in iron, and this combines with the tannin in the acorn to produce a good fast black. The same paper states that if fowls are fed on boiled lobster shells they will lay bright red eggs.

AT THE RATIO OF 16 TO 1.

Illinois Federation of Labor Again Declares for Silver.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 7.—The convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor finished its work Friday afternoon and adjourned to meet next year in Kewanee. In the closing hours the silver men had their inning, and the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 is again the slogan of the organization.

The convention pledged its support to the Williamson county (Illinois) and Idaho miners, and went on record as being opposed to department stores. In the new constitution demands are made for:

The government ownership of all railroads, mines, telegraphs and telephones.

The municipal ownership and control of all those public conveniences which become a necessity by reason of the centralization of population—viz., street railways, water works, gas and electric light plants.

The abolition of government by injunction.

The restriction of all immigration.

The enactment of a convict labor law based upon the system now in vogue in the state of New York. All trades unionists are called upon to agitate and to use their influence to this end.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Result of Game Played Yesterday in the National League.

Wet weather shut off most of the games in the National league yesterday. Rain fell at Washington and New York, and at Philadelphia, where the Hubites and the Phillies were prepared to fight it out for second place, the grounds were too wet for play. The only game scheduled in the west was at Cincinnati, where the Reds inflicted a decisive defeat on Louisville, pushing the Colonels again below Chicago. Score:

Cincinnati	2	1	0	2	1	0	2	0	*	—8

Ships Sent at Dewey's Request.

New York, Oct. 7.—A dispatch from Washington says: "I want Aguinaldo and the Filipino insurgents to know that it was at my request that President McKinley ordered the naval reenforcements to our Asiatic squadron, now stationed at Manila." Admiral Dewey made this significant remark to Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen, and he added: "It has been reported that I have been in favor of giving the Filipinos their independence. Aguinaldo, I believe, circulated this report among the insurgents, and I, therefore, particularly desire that in sending out the orders to the Brooklyn and the other ships that are to go to the Philippines, the instructions shall be accompanied by the statement that they were sent at my request."

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—The republican state convention Friday was enthusiastic and harmonious. W. Murray Crane, Dalton, was nominated for governor.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE.

Commercial Agencies Report Few Business Failures.

BANK CLEARINGS ARE LARGE.

Dewey Demonstrations at New York Stopped Business for Two Days, Yet the Record for the Week Is Large—Widespread Activity.

New York, Oct. 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

"The grand demonstration in honor of Admiral Dewey effectually stopped business of most kinds for two days at the chief city of the country, and yet the remaining transactions of the week would have excited wonder a year ago. At New York, where the interruption was greatest, payments through clearing houses exceeded $1,059,000,000 in four business days, a record never before approached, and outside New York the gain reflects a great expansion in the volume of that kind of business which does not depend on exchanges. It has been a week of remarkable monetary changes here and elsewhere. With such business as the great steel companies are doing, it is not strange that their stocks are firmly held. The wool market is strong, with sales of 10,582,152 pounds at the three chief markets, prices being maintained, although the advance at London has been checked. The cotton mills, after the general advance in prices last week, have had a large business, being helped by the rise in material."

Bradstreet's says:

"Distributive trade, while smaller at some markets, is still of encouraging volume, industry is active, railway earnings hea y, prices still tend upward and bank clearings increase, while failures lessen. In industrial affairs activity is widespread and strikes are fewer and less costly than in most years. Business failures are apparently at a minimum. Wheat (including flour) shipments for the week aggregate 5,183,398 bushels, against 3,872,455 bushels (revised) last week. Corn exports for the week aggregate 4,238,749 bushels, against 3,523,059 bushels (revised) last week."

NATIVE BASUTOS MAY RISE.

Will Attack Orange Free State Unless They Are Restrained.

Manchester, Oct. 7.—The Guardian's Cape Town correspondent says the Basutos will probably attack the Orange Free State unless they are restrained. The correspondent adds that civil war throughout South Africa is inevitable.

Basutoland is British territory on the borders of the Orange Free State. Some time ago it was stated that the Basutos were only waiting for the word from Great Britain to begin fighting. On Sept. 15 Sir Alfred Milner, the British high commissioner, issued a proclamation warning all people against inciting the Basutos to rebellion.

Farmers Ask National Laws.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—The Farmers' National congress adopted the following resolutions: Extending the merchant marine; shipments of oleomargerine and kindred products from one state to another to be subject to the laws of the state in which received; falsely branding dairy or food products as to the state in which produced; urging people to write letters to their congressmen calling their attention to the measures favored by the Farmers' National congress; investigating and suppressing tuberculosis, and recommending the New York law regarding the same; falsely branding maple sugar and sugar as to the state in which produced; providing for honest inspection of grain, under the direction of the secretary of agriculture; applauding Massachusetts for appropriating $1,000,000 to exterminate the gypsy moth; indorsing Pan-American exposition at Buffalo in 1901.

All of these resolutions were in the shape of appeals to congress.

Noted Guest of Three Oaks.

Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 7.—Telephone advices from Three Oaks state Helen Gould of New York has accepted the invitation to be the guest of the Michigan village on Dewey day, which will be observed the latter part of this month, or at such time as Admiral Dewey can visit the place on his way to Chicago.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the entertainment of President McKinley, who will spend half an hour in the village on the 17th inst.

Much Money in Kansas Banks.

Atchison, Kas., Oct. 7.—A statement of the condition of the 381 state and private banks of Kansas at the close of business Sept. 7, shows deposits exceeding $26,000,000, an increase in three months of $2,000,000—more money than was ever in the state institutions at any preceding time.

Yachts Race Again Today.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Columbia and Shamrock start at 11 o'clock today to sail the same kind of a course they did Thursday—fifteen miles to leeward and return. The wind promises to be propitious. Betting on the result of the race is at even money.

ACCEPTS THE PEOPLE'S GIFT.

Dewey Grateful for the Appreciation of His Countrymen.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Admiral Dewey has formally announced his willingness to accept a home in Washington as the gift of admirers throughout the United States. He expressed his appreciation of the sentiment which inspired the contributions and announced as the fund was subscribed by over 43,000 people and did not come from any class he would accept the home as an honor, in the same spirit as the sword which congress voted.

It has been decided to purchase a house and not build one, as the admiral desires to have a home ready for him when he returns to Washington after the Boston celebration Oct. 14. He also requested the committee to limit the size and price of the house so that it can be furnished out of the fund. The contributions have reached a total of more than $50,000. The committee expects the fund will be increased now that the admiral has expressed his willingness to accept the proposed gift.

JONES IS AGAINST CHICAGO.

He Favors the Removal of Democratic Headquarters to Washington.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Senator Jones, chairman of the democratic national committee, will go to Chicago early next week to arrange for the opening of the national democratic headquarters.

It is said that the senator favors the establishment of the headquarters in Washington because of the better facilities for securing the publication of campaign material and the fact that the committee would also be near to the sources of campaign literature.

Senator Martin says that the newspapers in Chicago did not treat the committee fairly in the last campaign and that better treatment could be secured from the correspondents in Washington.

Methodists Elect Delegates.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 7.—The Rock river conference will have a strong delegation in the general conference of the Methodist church, which meets in Chicago next May. Following are the clerical delegates elected: Dr. Polemus H. Swift, Englewood; Dr. Charles J. Little, president Garrett Biblical institute; Dr. Franklin A. Hardin, presiding elder Rockford district; Dr. Lewis Curts, agent Western Methodist Book concern; Dr. Henry G. Jackson, presiding elder Chicago district; Delos M. Tompkins, Wheaton.

The regular lay delegates are: William Deering, Evanston; alternate, D. D. Thompson, Evanston. Gen. B. M. Sheets, Oregon; alternate, W. A. Merrifield, Freeport.

The committee on resolutions refrained from taking up any new questions. It presented resolutions for equal representation and against the army canteen system and in favor of the general conference standing firmly on the temperance question.

Indiana Editor Is Mulcted.

Bedford, Ind., Oct. 7.—After the case had been in the hands of the jury for the past twenty-four hours, Hiram McCormick was given a verdict for $2,474.25 against Newell H. Motsinger, publisher of the Shoals Referendum. The case grew out of an alleged libelous article published in the Referendum. Over 100 of the best citizens of this and adjoining counties were witnesses.

Meeting of Indiana W. C. T. U.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 7.—The twenty-sixth annual convention of the Indiana Woman's Christian Temperance union met Friday in the First Methodist church with the largest attendance in the history of the organization. Nearly 500 delegates were present.

YES OR NO?

Janesville People are Respectfully Asked to Answer These Questions.

Is there anything in the evidence of one's senses?

Is there anything in the testimony of one's friends?

Can reliance be placed upon statements from people we know?

Are the opinions of local citizens of any greater moment than those of strangers?

Would you sooner believe people living in some far away place than citizens of your own city?

We think not! for home proof can easily be investigated.

Mr. John Stetson, of Hotel Myers, day clerk, says: "A physician pronounced my trouble kidney complaint. If the severe pain across the small of my back is any indication of the said complaint, I guess I had it. For two years I suffered with attacks, sometimes virulent, sometimes a dull, grinding ache, which robbed me of considerable energy. I used in addition to doctor's prescriptions, several preparations said to be sure cures for kidney complaint, but up until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co's drug store, I received little if any permanent relief. I took a thorough course of treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills and it cured me. Up to date I have not noticed any recurrence of my old trouble."

The MAN with the sHOE

Fitted comfortably for the vigorous demands of winter is the much convincing argument one can meet with nowadays, and more so when all this pleasure can be had tor an outlay that is just one dollar and a half less than anything that's but the least bit better, and in a great many cases only just as good. The Regent, man's Shoe, at $3.50 a pair, has proven a great success. It is the same price year in and year out. For the present season it comes skillfully made up in the heavier stock with extra thick sole and extension edges, (we'l sewed always)—the kind that stands the racket. Every stitch as close as any found in higher priced grades. This is indeed the only Shoe value that holds popular in all the large cities today and none are made any more stylish. We can fit your foot from a variety of styles and lasts, all the best chrome tanned leathers, in either black or colors. You can't beat it at the price and we give you the maker's guarantee on every pair we fit. Just see how far your $3.50 will go at our store.

Moving The Grain Crop.

How the Yellow Gold of the Western Fields Is Sent to the Hungry Peoples of The Old World.

BY CYRUS SYLVESTER.

A large part of the great grain crop produced in the west and northwest during the season just past is now on its way across the ocean. Some of it goes to England, some to France and Italy and much to Russia. Part of it feeds the brown hordes of India when crops fail in the sun scorched Punjab.

Here are a few figures. Of the phenomenal wheat crop of 1897 (500,000,000 bushels, we sent nearly 200,000,000 bushels to the old world. Our corn is in great demand across the ocean too. Just what part of the immense yield of this year will be demanded remains to be seen. In 1897 we shipped 176,916,365 bushels of corn to foreign lands. This year we could double that amount and not miss it. But it all depends on the demand. If the blight strikes the Russian fields they will look to us for a larger supply than usual.

But although the demand varies it always amounts to many millions of bushels of grain of various kinds. The moving of this grain crop from the fields which produce it to the faraway countries where there are hungry peoples is an industrial spectacle of immense proportions. It is a panorama, rather, with many changing views.

Just now this panorama is moving at its swiftest. By railroad, lake, river and canal the yellow gold of the west is moving to the seaboard. There at the edge of the ocean lay the big ships which wait to carry it over the longest stage of its journey.

Perhaps this transfer of the grain from cars and canalboats into the holds of great ocean steamers is one of the most interesting things which happens to the grain we export. At least it is the most unfamiliar to most people.

The wheat cargoes which were collected by little and little, a ton here and a ton there, are now merged into one yellow stream which pours into the cavernous holds. "Pours" is the word. What the farmhand of the west takes a week to do, what a hundred laborers would toil like Egyptian slaves to perform in an hour, that marvel of mechanism, the grain elevator, does in the twinkling of an eye. It sucks the grain up from out of a canalboat or a barge, weighs it with inconceivable rapidity, carries it far aloft in its tower, drops it down, screens and cleans it automatically, carries it up on high again and pours it into the ocean steamer's hold.

An elevator of ordinary capacity will empty an ordinary canalboat, whose cargo is 8,000 bushels, weigh and screen this quantity and load it in the hold of the iron ship alongside in an even hour, or perhaps a fraction less.

Nor is this the entire power of a first class elevator, floating or stationary. Those of the floating variety one is apt to give the most heed to, for they are most in evidence, following up the regular liners and the tramps about the harbor, wherever they may be wanted.

The additional power that a floating elevator gets comes from her duplication of machinery. One side of this gigantic automaton is all that is required to load the 8,000 bushels of grain spoken of. The other side can, at the same moment, handle precisely a similar quantity. It has a duplicate "leg," or "shute," weighing machine and lifters, receivers and hoppers. Properly placed it can pump out two canalboats or barges at the same time, and since a liner would hardly be likely to carry more than 200,000 bushels across, it can be seen that with active elevators her full complement of wheat, corn, barley or oats could be poured into her hold in an incredibly short space of time.

An unusual figure of a workingman is the grain handler. No picture or description can quite do justice to his appearance. About the elevator, in the canalboat and in the ship's hold particles of grain are flying everywhere. It settles on the clothes, in the hair, in the nostrils; it sticks in the throat—a fine, yellow whitish, almost impalpable dust that is all pervading.

So he dresses for the part. He wears a suit of brown jeans, the trousers strapped tightly around the shoes, which are of the brogan variety. On his head is an old soft hat pulled tightly down. Over the lower part of his face is a mask, in which is placed a wet sponge. Through this latter he breathes when down amid the grain dust. Without the mask working in this atmosphere would be insupportable.

When a canalboat or barge is tied alongside an elevator and the hatches are taken off, the elevator's "leg," by mechanical device perfect in its automatic working, moves down into the canalboat hold and buries its foot in the grain. This "leg" consists of two gigantic boxlike tubes of wood running side by side and joining at the bottom and the top. Within them, running on an endless chain, a rubber belt, are uncovered boxes of steel with sharp sides, known as "buckets." Each holds a quarter of a bushel and they are about a foot apart. The chain carries them along at a rapid rate, and each scoops up its quota of grain. The men in the hold have only to heap up the grain about the "leg," and the moving scoops take care of it.

The other end of the "leg" is on the elevator's second story, where the buckets turned by the chain to make their descent back to the canalboat drop their loads into a vast hopper.

Here comes in one of the prettiest features of elevator work, and one that is easily to be seen. The elevator's sides and interior partitions shroud much of its operations in mysteries, but the weighing is in full view. Directly under the great hopper, on the first floor, is a huge scale, surmounted by a bin with a glass "peek hole." The weigher moves a lever of wood. There is at once a rush within. A vast quantity of grain comes tumbling down. In less than a moment, as can be seen by looking through the glass, the bin is full. It holds 75 bushels.

An instant's moving of the weights and the record of the binload is made. The weigher marks a few figures on a sheet of paper fastened on the machine and then briskly moves another lever. Presto! the mass of grain inside the bin is disappearing. It is sliding out of sight; it is vanishing. In half a minute it is no longer to be seen, and the weigher phlegmatically pulls down his first lever and lets another 75 bushels into the bin.

The grain as it has disappeared has dropped down into the elevator's cellar. Thence it is carried up on another endless chain of buckets, now known as lofters, each holding half a bushel, high into the interior of the tower, to be dropped on the screens. Here the dust and dirt are shaken off and away, and the grain, purged and purified, is now ready to be passed into the ship's hold.

Another set of lofters carry it up, this time to the elevator's very top. From that point a long pipe, a succession of pipes or "chutes," stretch out. They begin in this tower, they reach out of the tower window, they go through the air from elevator to ship, at last ending in the ship's hold. The grain rushes down in a golden stream. Men with shovels hurl it away into corners, packing it well, for it will soon be tossed about by the waves of the Atlantic.

Illinois Bankers Declare for Gold.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Illinois bankers have declared that they are solid for the gold standard. At the final session of their convention Friday resolutions pledging fealty to gold carried by a unanimous vote. Action was taken by way of indorsing the resolutions adopted by the American Bankers' association at its meeting in Cleveland last month, which declared that the bankers of the country were "unequivocally and firmly" loyal to the single standard.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. H. Harris, Champaign; vice-president, Phil Mitchell, Rock Island; treasurer, A. B. Hoblit, Bloomington; secretary, Frank P. Judson, Chicago.
